Inclusion Policy

The Local Offer

Compliance with legislation

This policy is a statement of the arrangements for Inclusion at Longney CE Primary Academy. It has been written in response to the Special Educational Needs Code of Practice (effective from 2014), the Special Educational Needs and Disability Act, and the National Curriculum 2014. The SEND Code of Practice: 0 to 25 Years is the statutory guidance that organisations in England, including Longney CE Primary Academy, have a duty to follow. It relates to Part 3 of the Children and Families Act (2014) and its associated regulations. Education, Health and Care Plans for 0-25-year olds (EHC) have replaced Special Educational Needs Statements and learning difficulty assessments, and will set out in one place all the support families will receive, giving parents and young people the offer of a personal budget. More specific information is contained in the Inclusion Guidelines and the Local Offer.

Aims and objectives

As a school we are committed to giving all our pupils every opportunity to achieve the highest of standards. We are an inclusive school. This means that equality of opportunity must be a reality for all our pupils. We make this a reality through the attention we pay to the different groups of children within our school:

- Minority ethnic and faith groups
- Traveller children
- Children with SEND
- Girls/boys
- Looked After children
- Children with medical needs
- Children who need support to learn English as an additional language
- Children who have physical disabilities
- Gifted and talented children
- Children who are at risk of disaffection or exclusio

We aim:

- to include all pupils in all aspects of school life and to give pupils a voice in their own education;
- to work together with parents and carers and to fully involve them in their child's education;
- to work together with all partners in the education of the young person;
- to continue to raise staff awareness of inclusion by ongoing staff development;
- to maximize the learning potential of all pupils and raise educational attainment for all;
- to promote the personal, social, moral and cultural development of all children;
- to recognise and celebrate the progress and achievements that all members of the educational community make;
- to develop inclusive practices throughout the educational community and to promote equality of access and opportunity for all learners;
- to ensure that resources for SEN are closely matched to need;
- to seek to continuously monitor and evaluate the success of our policy and practice.

The National Curriculum 2014 is our starting point for planning a curriculum that meets the specific needs of individuals and groups of children. We do this through:

- setting suitable learning challenges;
- responding to children's diverse learning needs;
- overcoming potential barriers to learning and assessment for individuals and groups of pupils;
- providing other curricular opportunities outside the National Curriculum to meet the needs of individuals or groups of children.

At Longney CE Primary Academy we provide education for all pupils through a variety of access strategies, including appropriate differentiation, setting, and the provision of resources and facilities as necessary. All pupils' individual needs are considered and a range of flexible responses are available to accommodate and value their diversity. When planning their work, teachers take into account the abilities of all the children. When the attainment of a child falls below the expected level, teachers enable the child to succeed by planning work that is in line with that child's individual needs. When necessary we also support learning through appropriate external specialists. In such cases, staff work closely with these agencies to support the child.

Teachers ensure that children:

- feel secure and know their contributions are valued;
- appreciate and value the differences they see in others;
- take responsibility for their own actions;
- participate safely in clothing that is appropriate to their religious background;
- are taught in groupings that allow them to all experience success;
- use materials that reflect a range of social and cultural backgrounds without stereotyping;
- have a common curriculum experience that allows for a range of different learning styles;
- have challenging targets that enable them to succeed;
- are encouraged to participate fully with appropriate regard to disabilities or medical needs;
- work in partnership with parents and carers.

Monitoring, evaluation and review

In order to determine the effectiveness of this Policy, it is necessary to monitor and evaluate its impact. This will be achieved by the Head Teacher and the SENDco will monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the Inclusion Policy by:

- curriculum health checks;
- monitoring and analysing of data to ensure individual pupils are meeting their targets;
- consultations with parents/carers and pupils;
- writing Pupil Profiles including the setting and evaluation of targets;
- monitoring of behavioural, racial and bullying incidents;
- monitoring of absence and lateness data.

Working with the local authority

All local authorities must provide children and young people with special educational needs and/or disabilities, and their parents/carers, with information and advice about these matters and social care. This support should be provided through an information, advice and support service which should be impartial, confidential and accessible. The local authority 'must take steps to make these services known to children, their parents and young people'.

Local authorities are to publish a 'Local Offer' showing the support available to all children and young people (aged 0-25) with special educational needs and disabilities in the area. This will mean greater transparency so that children, young people and families will know what help they can get.

Our Inclusion and SEND policy is to work actively to support the improved cooperation between local authorities and health services, to ensure education, health and care services for children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities are jointly planned and commissioned.

Longney CE Primary Academy will publish information about what support we can provide for children and young people (aged 4-11) with special educational needs and disabilities, otherwise known as the 'School Offer'. Children and young people with an Education, Health and Care Plan have a new legal right to express a preference for state academies and free schools, and therefore can express a preference for Longney CE Primary Academy and it is vital that parents are fully informed of what our 'School Offer' is.

We will comply with our duties under the Equality Act 2010 towards individual disabled children and young people. We will make reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services for disabled children, to prevent them being put at a substantial disadvantage. We will comply with our wider duties to prevent discrimination, to promote equality of opportunity and to foster good relations.

'Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of the pupils in their class, including where pupils access support from teaching assistants or specialist staff'

SEND Code of Practice [Ch6.36]

The SEND Code of Practice [Ch6.16] also states that 'schools should assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, building on information from previous settings and key stages where appropriate.'

- The school will ensure that teachers deliver a 'graduated approach' using an appropriate and effective system and monitoring programme suited to the individual child's needs and reviewed termly. The 'graduated approach and 'quality first teaching' will be classed as Universal, Targeted or Specialist depending on the child's need.
- We will consider any evidence that a pupil may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 and, if so, what reasonable adjustments may need to be made for them.
- We will make use of a range of information and associated training on appropriate interventions for pupils with specific learning difficulties

Furthermore, all professionals at Longney CE Primary Academy will listen to parents' concerns about their child's development. They will also listen to and address any concerns raised by children and young people themselves.

'The support provided to an individual should always be based on a full understanding of their particular strengths and needs and seek to address them all using well-evidenced interventions targeted at their areas of difficulty and where necessary specialist equipment or software'.

The SEND Code of Practice [Ch6.27]

Universal provision

This is our generalised support and will include:

- 'Quality First' teaching which develops children's speaking and listening skills and phonological awareness;
- teachers who understand the process of learning, and can adapt their teaching according to different children's learning needs;
- support of the whole school ethos which respects individuals' differences and promotes good communication between teachers, parents and pupils;

- access to additional learning programmes and resources to support development of key skills and strategies for independent learning.

Where pupils make less than expected progress given their age and individual circumstances, despite responding with high quality teaching aimed at their areas of weakness, the class teacher, working with the SENDco, will assess whether the pupil has special educational needs.

Targeted support

Staff will use targeted interventions in small groupings.

Specialist support

Provision for children with special educational needs will usually be provided through our core budget and notional special educational needs budget. An extra amount of money, in addition to the general core budget, is given to the school to help with special educational needs provision. It is called the 'notional' SEN budget and Longney CE Primary Academy has the freedom to decide how best to spend this money to meet the needs of all our special educational needs children.

The school's delegated SEN funding (i.e. the notional SEN budget referred to above) is £ (figure taken from General Annual Grant Statement 2014/15)

Meeting the Needs of Pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)

The School Offer

Longney CE Primary Academy is an inclusive school and may offer the following range of provision to support children with communication and interaction, cognition and learning difficulties, social, mental and emotional health problems or sensory or physical needs.

The range of support deployed will be tailored to individual need following thorough assessment by internal and/or external agencies and according to resourcing/funding available to the school. It is designed to promote pupils working towards becoming independent and resilient. Please see 'Our School Offer' document for further details.

Information and Guidance

Who should I contact to discuss the concerns or needs of my child?

If you have concerns about your child you should speak to your child's class teacher first. They are responsible for:

- adapting and refining the curriculum to respond to strengths and needs of all pupils;
- monitoring the progress of your child and identifying, planning and delivering additional in class support;
- contributing to Pupil Profiles to prioritise and focus on the next steps required for your child to improve learning;
- applying the school's Inclusion Policy.

If you have further concerns about your child you may be directed to:

Our SENDCo, Ms Price, who is responsible for:

- co-ordinating provision for children with additional needs;
- developing, implementing and monitoring the school's Inclusion and SEND Policy.

Ensuring that parents are:

- involved in supporting their child's learning and access;
- kept informed about the range and level of support offered to their child;
- included in reviewing how their child is doing;

- consulted about planning successful movement (transition) to a new class or school;
- liaising with a range of agencies outside of school who can offer advice and support to help pupils overcome any difficulties;
- providing specialist advice and facilitating training to ensure that all staff are skilled and confident about meeting a range of needs.

Ms Howard head teacher, who is responsible for:

- the day-to-day management of all aspects of the school, including the provision made for pupils with additional needs.

Mr Keith Rog, SEND Governor, who is responsible for:

Is responsible for:

- supporting the school in evaluating and developing quality and impact of provision for pupils with additional needs across the school.

Assessment, Planning and Review

How can I find out about how well my child is doing?

Ongoing monitoring by the class teacher identifies pupils who are not making progress or who have behaviour needs which are affecting their ability to engage in learning activities. After discussions with key staff and parents, additional strategies may be put into place to enhanced resources, targeted small group or individual support to help overcome any difficulties. The views of the pupil about their support will be given consideration at this stage.

This additional support may be documented in a Provision Map, in a Pupil Profile, a Pupil Support Agreement or a Behaviour Support Plan, examples of which will be contained in an Appendix to the Inclusion Policy.

In consultation with the SENDCo and parents, short term targets are agreed which prioritise key areas of learning or behaviour to address, and by which progress can be measured. Where external agencies are involved, their advice and recommendations are included in these support programmes. Actions agreed take into account each pupil's strengths as well as their difficulties.

In some cases teaching assistant support may be allocated. This support is deployed to ensure your child can engage in lessons and wider school activities and to facilitate independent learning to support transition to adulthood.

Regular meetings are held to discuss progress. Some reviews may be more formal where parents, relevant external agencies and, when appropriate, pupils are invited and their contribution valued. The impact of support offered is considered along with the progress towards targets set. Support arrangements will be updated and revised accordingly. If not involved already, this might include referral to external agencies. The outcomes of these meetings will be formally recorded.

If your child is continuing to have significant difficulties, further external expertise may be requested. Further details about this process will be explained in the LA's Local Offer:

<http://www.glofamiliedirectory.org.uk/kb5/gloucs/glofamilies/localoffer>

Tests and Examinations: Access Arrangements

For some pupils additional arrangements and adjustments can be made to enable them to fully access a range of tests. This might include additional time, rest breaks or the use of a scribe or word processor. The head teacher or SENDCo will inform you about eligibility and applications for these arrangements. Only tests and assessors authorised by the school or local authority can be accepted for access arrangements for public examinations.

Curriculum and Teaching Methods (including groupings and interventions)

How will teaching be adapted to meet the needs of my child?

We plan, deliver and monitor 'Quality First' teaching. Teachers are skilled at adapting teaching to meet the diverse range of needs in each class. Daily planning takes into account individual pupil's needs.

Differentiation is approached in a range of ways to support access and ensure that all pupils can experience success and challenge in their learning. Grouping arrangements are organised flexibly with opportunities for both ability and mixed settings to maximise learning opportunities for all. This will also include extension activities for the more able children.

Additional adults are used flexibly to help groups and individual pupils with a long term goal of developing independent learning skills. Monitoring takes place to avoid pupils becoming over reliant and dependent on this adult support. Some interventions may change as needs are identified.

Best practice indicates that teaching assistants should be used to facilitate and support the pupil towards a model of independent learning and should never be used as simply the child's 'extra helper'.

As a school we operate according to best practice allocation of teaching assistants in the classroom. We are fully conversant with the findings of the Deployment and Impact of Support Staff (DISS) project and subsequent work by Peter Blatchford et al. Effective support and provision for a child with special educational needs may take the form of, for example, pre prepared differentiated resources, visual prompts to support a child through a task independently, direct support from the class teacher or teaching assistant on a one-to-one basis, or the provision of guidance necessary for a pair or small group of children to collaborate on a task. We constantly make reference to our aim to support children to become independent learners.

Intervention

Where pupils are meeting National Curriculum expectations and making good progress, they are likely to receive support via Quality First teaching and in-class differentiation. Priority will be given to those pupils who are not on track in terms of National Curriculum attainment or who are not making satisfactory progress. Priority for specialist dyslexia input will be given to those pupils with the lowest standard scores in spelling, processing and working memory tests. With these pupils It is highly likely that those with scores in the average range (SS 85) and above will receive support via Quality First teaching and in-class differentiation.

Access to learning and the curriculum

Access to learning support staff:

Transition

How will the school help my child move to a new class or to a different school?

We seek to support successful transition by:

When moving to another school:

We will contact the School SENDCo and share information about special arrangements and support that has been made to help your child achieve their learning goals. We will agree with you and your child the most important information to be shared. We will ensure that all records are passed on as soon as possible.

When moving classes in school:

An information sharing meeting will take place with the new teacher. Opportunities to visit the new class and social stories about change may be used.

Year 6-7 transition

Provision of learning mentor to work with pupils on transition. Facilitation of additional transition visits. Follow-up visits to secondary school in October of Year 7 for pupils with EHSP. In some cases additional multi-agency meetings may be arranged to create a more detailed 'transition' plan which may include extra visits to the new school.

- Local Authority SEN

Staffing Expertise

How skilled are staff in meeting the needs of my child?

An ongoing programme of training is in place to ensure that teachers and support staff have appropriate skills and knowledge in areas that will improve their teaching and support of children with SEN, for example training in dyslexic-friendly classrooms, Autistic Spectrum disorders.

The school also seeks advice and guidance from local advisers to evaluate and develop provision for pupils who have the most complex needs. We have staff in school with specialised expertise and qualifications, including play therapy, talking and drawing therapy.

Who do I talk to if I am unhappy with my child's support or progress?

- Class teacher
- Inclusion Manager – ring office to make an appointment or email admin@longney.gloucs.sch.uk
- Head Teacher
